

Well I enjoyed the fact that everyday had both equal shares of classes and events. This made sure that after our classes, we would have fun events to cheer us up, refresh our minds and give us the motivation needed to study our lecture materials properly and make notes.

Well what surprised me was the lecture part. I had been under the misconception that we would make notes and questions beforehand and then during class when you will go through the lecture, we would ask our questions and you will respond to us whenever you get time to do so (like after the lecture is over). Hence I thought I would be able to clear my confusion on pre and post test loops at that time.

But luckily, there was online tutorial where Dr. Gamunu explained the basic difference between them in the code which made me understand it. This not only made me understand and do no 5 and 6 in tute01, but also gave me the courage to start thinking and working on the last two extra question.

Even though it was just a simple point (and even made me laugh for not noticing the difference before), it made realize the importance of asking questions related to lessons in classes. So personally, I feel that you should let us ask more questions related to the lecture notes on lecture q and a time, rather than about other stuff.

But then again this is all just my personal opinion and everything else was perfect. Thank you so much!!!
